

RogersRoses

Gardens to visit in the United Kingdom

Mottisfont Abbey Garden

Photograph by Bill Grant

The British National Collection of Old Garden Roses is held here in one of the world's great rose gardens, which was planted by Graham Stuart Thomas and is constantly being updated.

Mottisfont Abbey Garden

The National Trust & National Garden Scheme

Mottisfont, Romsey, Hampshire SO5 0LP
10m NW of Southampton

Tel: (01794) 340757

Email: mottisfontabbey@ntrust.org.uk

Website: www.nationaltrust.org.uk or www.ngs.org.uk

Open: 11am-6pm, Saturday-Wednesday from late March to early November & Saturday-Thursday in July & August.

The garden stays open later during the rose season.

Admission: adults £6, children £3, Coaches by arrangement.

Facilities: parking, toilets, plant sales, tea room, shop.

'Rosa Mundi'